WITHOUT SPENDING MORE?

Leading retailers may soon require you to have a mandatory electronic color communication system. You have two choices. Both systems meet the minimum requirement. Both systems cost the same... but GretagMacbeth® will give you over $5,000 more in free products and services.

WHY GRETAGMACBETH?

In the last two years, more leading retail and apparel brands have added GretagMacbeth to their short list of color technology providers including Wal-Mart, PVH, The Gap and more. GretagMacbeth has been a technology leader in color control and image reproduction for nearly a century, beginning with the definitive standard in light booths - SpectraLight®.

Today, the GretagMacbeth focus is on seamless color control across devices, platforms, and throughout supply chains with the goal of accelerating and driving down the cost of color development. Continued investment in R&D has made this goal a reality and forged relationships with many of the world's most respected brands including GE, Apple, Fuji Hunt and more. Plus, GretagMacbeth sales and support cover the globe in over 50 countries.
